Karachi observed the World Animal Day with an event organised by The Brook, in collaboration with the Sindh Dept of Livestock & Fisheries and Pakistan Animal Welfare Society (PAWS) on Saturday, 4 October at the Richmond Crawford veterinary hospital here.

The objective of the event was to raise awareness of the suffering of working animals, and to recognise their services and support. Participants of the event included Farmer Associate Pakistan Provincial Coordinator Dr Ghulam A. Syed, Director Maheen Zia, PAWS CEO Mahera Omar, Sindh PVMA Vice President Dr Khalid Qayamkhani, RCVH representative of equine owners Dr Chander Kumar and Dr Sher Nawaz, Dr Mohammed Khsif and Dr Naimatullah Soomro from The Brook South Region

The speakers said that donkeys, horses and mules had been loyal and long standing supporters of society, and should be given the best possible care. All participants, including equine owners and their animals, took part in a walk to show solidarity with the cause of Brook Pakistan. At the end, animals were offered water and green fodder.
