We must condemn torture on animals, says Marri

KARACHI: Civilised societies take care of animals, but in our society, animals are being humiliated and tortured, which is not a healthy sign, Sindh Tourism Minister Shazia Marri said on Monday.

She was addressing the participants of a walk on the World Animal Day at Sea View, Clifton.

She said animals were a very important part of this world, and without them, the ecological system of the world would be disturbed.

The recent floods, which have rendered millions of people homeless, have also caused tens of thousands of animals to perish, bringing about unbearable losses to the agro-based Pakistani society, she added.

Sindh Livestock Director General Ghulam Sarwar Shaikh, Pakistan Veterinary Medical Association President Dr Bakshal Thalho and Dr A Rasheed Bhutto also spoke on the occasion. ppi
