

Stand out from the others!

Dear Friend,

Do you witness animals in need and feel powerless?

Want to get involved but have no idea where to start?

Thousands of people around the world feel the same way but, for various reasons, they don't do anything. Often, someone just needs to take the lead and others will follow. Why shouldn't that someone be you?

Why not be different?

If you don't have time to create an event, but would still like to show your support for animals, there are other ways to take part.

First, follow us for the latest updates...

Then...

Ask Google for a doodle!

We think animals should be recognised on the Google homepage on World Animal Day – October 4! Let Google know you agree!
